

1. Module Title	Public Finance	2. Module Code
3. Academic Year, Semester, Module Status	2021-2022 Spring semester, Full-time
4. Aims and Learning Outcomes	The aim of this course is to set up a theoretical framework for a discussion of government's interference in contemporary economy. The course provides an overview of the economic grounds for government decisions as applied in public administration. To accomplish this, this course explores basic economic theory for government intervention in the market system, reveals methods of solving public problems and conflicts over public resource allocation, and reviews issues related to how government finances itself. The course is concluded with an introduction to the theory of taxation.
Knowledge	Effect Code	Assessment
Subject	Field
1. Evaluate the role of the public sector and its role in contemporary society.	K_W01 K_W02	Midterm exam, research project and presentation.
2. Appraise the reasons and remedies for "market failures".	K_W02 K_W03	Midterm exam, research project and presentation.
3. Perceive the importance of the government role in the economy.	K_W04 K_W13	Midterm exam, research project and presentation.
4. Distinguish basic concepts of tax theory.	K_W15	Midterm exam, research project and presentation.
Skills	Effect Code	Assessment
Subject	Field
1. Analyse and debate various proposals on pension reform.	K_U05 K_U18	Research project, workshop activities.
2. Explain the need for social insurance.	K_U09 K_U15	Research project, workshop activities.

3. Analyse the efficiency and equity aspects of major taxation forms and tax reform.	K_U14 K_U17	Research project, workshop activities.
Social Competencies	Effect Code	Assessment
Subject	Field
1. Able to work in groups taking on varied roles and accepting co-responsibility for the accomplishment of tasks.	K_K04	Case studies, research project and presentation.
2. Able to use knowledge in solving cognitive and practical problems.	K_K05	Case studies, research project and presentation.